My 7-year-old son has had problems with his skin almost since he was born. He seemed to be allergic to direct sunlight and he developed some kind of eczema no topical could actually stop. He is a kid and it is next to impossible sometimes to prevent him from scratching his face and hands and from time to time he looks as if he had a quarrel with a dozen wild cats. We have tried many creams to help him conquer eczema but only Elidel provided some real effect. Elidel cleared my son's face and hands up after the first 3 days of use. Now we always have it in the medicine chest but we try to use it only in case of necessity.
